

John C. Ganss, CPA

Senior Vice President

Lowers Forensics International

Professional Summary

John Ganss is a forensic accountant specializing in assignments involving insurance loss accounting. He has analyzed, verified, and determined factual matters through the examination of operating and financial records.

His vast experience spans 28 years in the industry and his assignments have included the verification and determination of business interruption losses, physical damage, contents and product recall as well as claims in the fields of retail, wholesale and manufacturing operations. He has excelled in the interpretation and communication of the results of insurance claim reviews, analysis and findings through written and oral reports to interested insurers.

Mr. Ganss has participated directly with adjusters and attorneys in the preparation of strategies related to Catastrophe claim files and directed the handling of complex losses with property damage, business income and extra expense aspects. He has also applied the policy provisions determined by adjusters relating to complex manufacturing and catastrophe claims.
